NEWS AND NONSENSE IN THE P. E. SHOPS

Edited by Carleton B. Bell

George Evans is surely, though slowly, recovering from a spell of limbo. For a while he assumed the shape of a question mark and wore a pained expression on his face, which really did not fit him well. We are not used to seeing it there.

No one ever suspected Horace Hunt of being either an artist or a jokester, however, he sprung this one on us in the office the other day: "You did not know I could draw, did you? Well, I can, and the other day I drew a picture of a hen that everybody thought was a perfect likeness. In fact it was so perfect that when it was thrown into the waste basket it laid there." Now you can judge for yourself.

Just discovered that the watchmen were a little offended at the news item concerning the morning they had to get to the station as best they could in the rain. I said they walked and they want it understood that they ran all the way. They believe that is more than any other similar bunch of men of the same aggregate age can do.

Billy McCracken claims he has after all given up the idea of visiting the home town of New York this summer. Hard times seem to be the cause and Billy is almost broken-hearted. He also says that he tried helping the wife with the dishes so they could dispense with a maid to save money for the trip in that way, but had to give that up as it always gave him a stiff neck. Billy must hate a little dishwater.

John Phillips is on a trip which no one knows where he will lead, or end. John expects to visit the Angelus well and bring it in. (That would make half the P. E. family rich and the other half jealous). He also expects to get across the line at Juarez long enough to quench a great thirst.

Ralph Howe is back from his trip East. Most of the month was spent with his brother in University City, just outside of St. Louis. He also visited in Springfield, Ill. and other cities. He had lots of snow most of the time and enjoyed it for a change. He has had no trouble with his eyes since returning, evidently he viewed no more bathing beauty parades. Also his wife was with him this time.

Arthur Hiatt is a changed man, meaning he is a grandfather. He received word that a fine seven-pound boy was born to his daughter last Friday in Palo Alto. He was so excited over his new title that the next morning he took the family keys to work with him so that his wife had to climb through the garage window to get the car out. Fortunately the door could be unlocked from the inside.

Fred Rafter has returned to work after a trip of recuperation to Salt Lake City. Fred's regular line of work got all caught up in the freight yard and he had several days on the steel cars, for which anyone could tell he was not intended. Hence the trip.

Martin E. Hutson also has returned to work after being off three weeks on account of an injured eye. The injury was due to a little hot scale—little, but oh my!

Bill Wainman is a successful rounder-up of stray bees. During the last week he has lived four such swarms and soon must be known as an apiarist.

Bill Husband is up to his old tricks again—trading guns. The many deals concerned this time are too complicated for me to follow but they wind up with Bill having enough money to buy himself one brand new Remington automatic rifle. This makes only about six guns for Bill.

The shops indoor ball team is beginning to show signs of real life. They expect to be in the battle this year, but have not many hopes of getting away with as many games as they did last year. They have several vacancies to fill and a hard time filling any of them satisfactorily. Just now they are trying to arrange a game with the unbeaten San Bernardino team for the 19th, inst.

HI SCHOOL HI LIGHTS

By MURIEL BELL

If it were not for Lola Cokley's and Mildred Holland's tennis ability, playday for the girls of Torrance wouldn't be successful. They are wondering what they will do if these girls should leave their midst.

Mr. Waddingham, a very courageous gentleman, took his physics class to Cal Tech last Friday. Since the group was made up of boys they learned a great deal, because there wasn't anything to attract their attention from the experiments and exhibits.

Lee Herring finally overcame his fear of the stage, and he, with Harry Putnam, Leonard Lock and Howard Tatten, presented a very original stunt in Aud Call last Friday.

Glenn Tolson is spending his vacation away from the English. He is out on the Mojave Desert with his father.

Several disappointed maidens were left behind, when Joe Higgins left last Monday for a two weeks' visit in Utah.

May Haslam didn't find the weather warm enough here, so she has gone to Bakersfield for a week. Her brother, Kenneth, will also spend part of the time there.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood are vacationing at San Diego. Mr. Wood is attending the principals' institute.

There was plenty of time for Eleanor Boice and Helen Tiffany to catch up on their sleep this week. They have been complaining that they had too much work to do, but now they spend their time sleeping.

Nowadays it is surprising to start out with a few dollars and return with a dress. Joe Seo came to the store and bring back Joe Higgins. Tosiaki Sumihiro takes the prize though. He can go over town and in a few minutes return, looking like a Hawaiian. He seems to like curly hair.

There is no telling what will happen out in the desert when Mr. Wright, Mr. Waddingham, Mr. Burchett and Mr. Wood get together, and decide to "back" for a few days somewhere out in the wild country.

Johnny Young entertained a few friends at his home last Friday evening, after his success in the Constitution Contest. Ice cream and cookies were served by Mrs. Young. The guests were Francis Granger, Leonard Babcock, Ada Chaplin, Mildred Holland, Rita Lister, Clyde Bodley, Muriel Bell, Miss Irene Mills, Mrs. M. Eischen, Miss E. Lingenfelter and her mother, Stanley Creighton, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Schmidt and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Young.
